Fittingly titled, the term Kaleidoscope well captures the essence of this program since it represents varied perspectives, changing patterns of knowledge, and the elegance of collective reflection. Just like no two turns of a kaleidoscope are ever identical, each discussion brought a new insight into society and education. The facilitator, Mr. Abdul Haseeb with his profound knowledge and thoughtful guidance, helped me reflect on how education has evolved over time. Many questions were addressed, while new reflective questions raised, making the experience even more thought-provoking.

Even though I was familiar with some of the philosophical concepts, the trainer brought it together really beautifully and helped us as educators see the relevance of it in our work. The course was well-designed. Adult and blended learning pedagogies were creatively utilized. All the sessions were really insightful and provided a lot of food of thought. The trainer also shows a deep commitment towards his learners' interest and participation. He would ensure everyone is able to participate and benefit from the content. I would definitely recommend it.
